Dear PPA Member,
"Can you believe that a client called and told me about copying their family photo?"

Similar calls are often made to our Copyright & Government Affairs Department. In fact, we received many last week, reminding me again that many consumers just don't understand. Perhaps they simply don't connect the wonderful photos you created with US Copyright Law protection.

Many clients don't understand that your images are protected from reproduction...even if there is a clause in your contract (see the sample contracts in the Members Only area of www.ppa.com). Protecting your rights often means supplying some client education. And we can help with that!

* Make sure your photos have a visible copyright notice, including your own contact information. A good notice might include:

© ABC Studio 2007
Anytown, USA
Images are protected by US Federal Copyright Law.
It is illegal to copy, scan or reproduce without the permission of ABC Studio
phone number    email address/web site

* Use PPA's Copyright Inserts (available from the Service Center) as an enclosure with previews, albums and other finished work. As a PPA member, you can download a copy and reproduce it yourself at <http://www.ppa.com/i4a/pages/index.cfm?pageid=65> (Members Only Download area), or our Service Center will be happy to send you a sample package.

* Here's some more good news: the Copyright Alliance, of which PPA is an active member, is rolling out public educational materials to increase copyright awareness.

As always, we stand ready to assist you, our member, if your work is infringed. From dealing with clients to contacting a copyright infringer, PPA will be there on your side. It comes with membership.

Sincerely,
Al Hopper
Director of Membership, Copyright & Government Affairs
